

Avery Anjard

Topic: Application that predicts movie reviews

System Statement: The application will use movie and review data taken from Rotten Tomatoes and use it to predict a movie's review score.

Timeline: The backend, which processes the data and predicts movie reviews, should be done by at least the 22nd. The front end and interface, which is what the user will use to interact with the program, should be done by the 28th.